I've also written a patch for Tiki 1.8.3 to make Blogs have "extended text". That means blogs don't need to have the whole of page 1 on the blog view page. This makes blogging a bit more like GreyMatter, MovableType, WordPress etc. Although they don't seem to offer multi-page blog entries (which are very cool, actually). See SourceForge for more on that.

I think I've found a bug in Smarty output processing - it seems to process the same bit of template numerous times, even though it only appears once in the output. I have opened SourceForge bug 997647 for it.

Done loads of work on SEFURLs - beta in action on my 'blog (which now has a Wiki too): <http://www.coofercat.com>. Expect a proper bundle of stuff submitted to the SEFURLs mods project soon (soon for me usually means anytime in the next 24 months).

URLt that makes SEFURLs is now finished - see the SEFURLs page for more details.
